THE CHARTER OF NOMINATION AND REMUNERATION COMMITTEE

To have a high potential Board of Directors is a key, for they could yield efficiency and effectiveness for imposing good corporate governance principles, leading to optimum benefits to all parties involved. Therefore, IRPC's Board of Directors has established a Nomination and Remuneration Committee in accordance with the guidelines of the Stock Exchange of Thailand (SET).

The purpose is to ensure that both processes for director nomination and director compensation will be appropriate and transparent. Moreover, the Board could more effectively perform their duties while following the good corporate governance.

This new set-up could also assure the shareholders, investors and all stakeholders that, there will always be highly qualified directors materializing the company's strategic goals, the levels and composition of compensation will be more appropriate for the size and complexity of the business, and quality directors could be more motivated to stay with the company.

In conclusion, efficient performance, the company's strategic goals, and the company and shareholder's benefits could be more achieved.

1. COMPOSITIONS OF THE NOMINATION AND REMUNERATION COMMITTEE

- 1.1 The Committee shall be appointed by the Board of Directors.
- 1.2 The Committee shall comprise at least three directors, one of whom is an independent director.
- 1.3 The member, who is not an independent director, must be a non-executive director.
- 1.4 The Chairman of the Committee should be a senior with high expertise and experience.

- 1.5 The Chairman of the Board of Directors must not be the Chairman or a member of the Committee to ensure that the Committee will be able to perform its duties more independently.
- 1.6 The Committee should comprise members with diverse experience and high expertise from multi- areas of business management, human development, strategic planning, law, risk management, corporate governance, etc., to enhance a myriad of perspectives in Board discussions and decision makings.
Appointing directors with prior experience for serving in the Committee could also help enhance knowledge transfer and smoother transition.
- 1.7 The office terms for all Committee members should not end simultaneously.
