IRPC joined the parade of electric cars under the concept of “Green Songkran, Green Earth” on “2017 Amazing Songkran Day” by TAT

Miss Monwipa Choopiban, Executive Vice President, Corporate Affairs of IRPC Public Company Limited (IRPC) mentioned the objectives of the collaboration between IRPC and Tourism Authority of Thailand (TAT) on “2017 Amazing Songkran Day” and said, “I would like to thank TAT for honoring IRPC which is an organization in the refinery and petrochemical industry with your invitation to support the government and Thai cultural and traditional tourism in Songkran Festival for both Thai and foreign tourists. In this occasion, we used our Green ABS to encourage the concept of fun with social responsibility. IRPC is the only private section who decorated the electric cars under the concept of “Green Songkran, Green Earth” in the parade on “2017 Amazing Songkran Day” for the first time on Sukhumvit Road.”

Moreover, that event not only opened the opportunities for the public to know our environment-friendly products which projected our environment and social responsibility, but also connected our social art work as well as others' with the governmental project. That was definitely the collaboration to promulgate the traditional culture.

The fourth parade belonged to IRPC under the concept of “Green Songkran, Green Earth”. IRPC's Eco-friendly Goddess came with the industrial members from all over the country who had an in-depth interest in grand Songkran tradition and environment-friendly product design which was created to be an eco-friendly decorated electric cars. The parade was a part of the “the Earth of Green Songkran” performance. Besides, the actors' parade represented the environmental responsibility and Mon Songkran tradition in Prapradaeng Sub-district.

Also, IRPC provided traffic cones of 35% rubber, an IRPC's innovation, to organize the traffic in that area for public safety.
